

Call for papers

Dear Members and Friends of the European Finance Association (EFA)!

You are invited to submit papers to be considered for presentation at the 48th EFA Annual Meeting in August 2021.

The submission deadline is February 1, 2021 at midnight Pacific Time (GMT+8).

EFA 2021 is organized by Bocconi University and is scheduled on August 25–28, 2021. Our main concern is to run the conference in a safe and relaxed environment. We will therefore monitor the evolution of the pandemic closely and will choose the format (i.e., residential or virtual) of the conference accordingly. In any case, we will have remote-participation alternatives, so do not hesitate to submit your work! We will post updates on the conference format at efa2021.efa-meetings.org.

Paper submission procedure

You can submit papers electronically via the EFA website: efa2021.efa-meetings.org/submission. For the paper to be considered, the submitting author must be a member of the European Finance Association in 2021.

Once submitted, you can update your paper up to the deadline of February 1, 2021. Papers will be reviewed by members of the Program Committee. Authors will be notified about the outcome of the reviewing process by the end of April 2021.

Keynote speaker

Itay Goldstein, Joel S. Ehrenkranz Family Professor, Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.

Special sessions

EFA 2021 will offer four special sessions organized with institutional partners:

- Banca d'Italia on Macro-financial feedbacks and their policy implications after the Covid-19 crisis.
- Bank for International Settlements on Green Finance.

- European Central Bank on Non-bank financial intermediation.
- Norges Bank Investment Management on Understanding the long-run drivers of asset prices.

The papers for these special sessions are chosen from the pool of papers submitted to the conference and undergo the same reviewing process. More information on the special sessions is available here.

Doctoral events

The EFA Annual Meeting hosts two one-day events for doctoral students on August 25, 2021. Submission for these events runs separately and application period is from February 15 to March 15, 2021.

We look forward to receiving your submissions!
